

Accra Institute of Technology accredited in Togo Modern Ghana 2009-12-08

photo: Creative Commons / Raphael17

Accra, Dec. 8, GNA - The Accra Institute of Technology (AIT) has been given full accreditation by the Togolese authorities to open a campus in Lome to offer degree programmes in a number of areas, a statement released by Ms Eliza Sam, Director of Communications of AIT, said in Accra on Tuesday. It said the Togo campus, which would operate under the name the Togo Institute of Technology (TIT), would be an English-based university in a French-speaking...

Text size

The New York Times University Branches in Dubai Are Struggling

Previous 1 2 3 4 5 Next

Subscribe to Email News

Read full article

Post a Comment

Email this Page

RSS

Previous Article

Next Article

When news happens:

send photos, videos or sound files

submit your article

or email us

Most Popular

Future War: Iran already killing Americans The Examiner

Is Iran going to change? There is a chance The Salt Lake Tribune

Suicide bombing kills 6 Russian police, wounds 16 The Guardian

Tuna nets US$176,000 in Tokyo new year auction Taipei Times

'Flaws' in key Lockerbie evidence BBC News

Related News Stories

results:

0 - 10

10 - 20

20 - 30

Mensah to miss African Nations Cup

Independent online (SA)

Accra - Ghana captain John Mensah will miss this month's African Nations Cup finals after picking up a hamstring injury, the Ghana Football Association said on Friday. Mensah, who...

How Yemen frustrated Mutallabs attempt to find son

Joy Online

Fresh facts emerging on the alleged attempt by 23-year-old Umar Farouk Abdulmutallab to blow up a passenger plane in the United States on Christmas day showed that the attempt...

Angola cruise excites Rahim Ayew

Modern Ghana

After been named in the 23-man list for the 2010 Orange African Cup of Nations by Black Stars head coach Milovan Rajevac, Rahim Ayew says he couldn't have wished for a better...

Ghana coach faced with injuries for Nations Cup

Yahoo Daily News

ACCRA (AFP) – Milovan Rajevac, the Serbian coach of the Ghana's national football team, is faced with a serious injury crisis ahead of the Africa Cup of Nations (CAN) set...

IRAQ: Iraqis welcome WFP role in state food aid system

IRINews

Photo News »

Cadila Healthcare sets April date for the launch of H1N1 vaccine
DNA India

Britain says it passed airliner suspect data to US
The Star

Major-General Andrew Mackay says MoD is 'institutionally incapable' in Afghanistan
The Times